The Author Richie Jimmy Walia, DTM is a, Professional Financial Advisor, Author of 4 Books, Distinguished Toastmaster and Motivational speaker. 7 years ago, when the Author was still very young he was not the person he is today, he used to be considered as a Shy Introverted Person who rarely talks with people until around the age of 18 Years old, in his Nursery school times up to high school times he was considered as mostly one of the most silent person in class, and use to be called Mr. TQO (The Quiet One), all of that change when he was introduce to an organization known as Toastmasters International which is a public speaking and leadership organization, and that is where the transformation began, after 2 months as a Toastmaster The Author changed his Mind set and his belief to become the person he is today, in those two months after delivering four speeches as a toastmaster he decided that he can't be shy anymore and he needs to speak otherwise his ideas would not be heard and he would not have his own voice and after that, he started progressing in his life, The Author continued to pursue all that he can in Toastmasters and he did something he never taught he would be able to do, at the age of 18 after completing 20 speeches
